

Ringwood Day Nursery

June 2015

Monthly Roundup

Welcome

We continue to be busy and on some weekdays we have now reached maximum capacity through into 2016 in our baby room. I apologise if we are unable to accommodate extra sessions on certain days but we will always try our hardest.

Thank you to all who collected Sainsburys vouchers for us, we have now sent in the vouchers and selected a really great story sack as well as some role play tabards. We expect the new equipment to arrive just at the end of the summer.

We had three exciting outings this month, visiting the new schools of some of the children who are leaving us soon. Thankfully the weather was kind on all three days as we eagerly walked to and from Ringwood and Poulner infant schools. All the children had a wonderful session at their new school and are keenly looking forward to starting in the autumn term.

Read on to enjoy the reports from the playrooms this month.

Sue

A big welcome back to our new member of the staff team - Susan has returned to us as a full time Nursery Nurse after taking some time away travelling, getting married etc.

Susan has joined us as a permanent member of the team in the baby room. Susan holds an NVQ 3 in Childcare care and brings seven years experience to the team.

Cherry Room

This month we have met some new babies in Cherry room. We would like to welcome Miles, Isabella, Erin, Matilda, Lily and Amirah to Cherry room. As always a huge welcome to them all and their families and I hope you all settle well into nursery life.

We have continued our messy play ideas and explored jelly play, (which was also quite tasty), coloured spaghetti and painting.

As the sun has been shining lots this month, Cherry room have have made the most of it and been outside as much as possible. The babies and toddlers quite enjoyed cooling off in the paddling pool and playing with cups, spoons and pouring buckets.

Pear Room

After our fire drill practice we talked and learnt about the noisy alarm, fires and firefighters. We read lots of Firemen Sam stories and painted some nice shiney red Fire Engines. This then led Pear room on to discuss Doctors and Nurses, with the children checking each others ears, throats and heartbeats. All of these areas were absolutely fine, however we did come across some sore knees that needed fixing!

Pear room loved making fairy cakes. The children mixed, tasted, stirred, tasted, added ingredients and then tasted just a little bit more, well, someone had to double check the cake mixture was of good quality!

Woodpecker news

As the sun has been shining this month, our strawberries have turned a nice shiny red and we have eaten them all up for our snack.

Sheila in the office gave Woodpecker a lovely present of shredded paper to play with.

The Woodpecker children absolutely loved it, however we're not too sure Amanda felt the same!

The children have been building their very own obstacle course in the garden, using the tyres, poles, crates and planks. They then used the bouncy ball as a makeshift diving board to see how far they could jump.

Oak Room news

This month the children of Oak room have been exploring stretchy dough. They have made it, during which, they talked about the quantities, weighing out the ingredients, adding more or taking away some to make less and they even made it smell nice by adding herbs and petals from our very own garden.

Oak room got very messy creating a swamp for dinosaurs. First they scoured the garden for any bugs that they could find or possibly any dinosaurs! Unfortunately they didn't have any luck with finding any dinosaurs. So they collected some mud, grass, leaves and rosemary from the garden. They then added paint, washing up liquid to make it sticky and some whole cloves for a nice distinctive smell! The children then got stuck in feeling the gooey mess they had created.

As the weather has been so beautiful, the children have enjoyed lots of play outside including splash play in the garden. The children played running games through the sprinkler, soaked each other with buckets of water and used the hose on one another to cool them all down in this hot weather we have had.
